the first garden

When the Lord God made the earth and the heavens, neither wild plants nor grains were growing on the earth. For the Lord God had not yet sent rain to water the earth, and there were no people to cultivate the soil...

Then the Lord God planted a garden in Eden in the east, and there He placed the man He had made...

The Lord God placed the man in the Garden of Eden to tend and watch over it.

"It is the same with my Word. I send Him out, and He always produces fruit. He will accomplish all I want Him to, and He will prosper everywhere I send Him.

“Unless a kernel of wheat is planted in the soil and dies, it remains alone. But its death will produce many new kernels—a plentiful harvest of new lives.”

paradise restored... forever

"Then the angel showed me a river with the water of life, clear as crystal, flowing from the throne of God and of the Lamb. It flowed down the center of the main street. On each side of the river grew a tree of life, bearing twelve crops of fruit, with a fresh crop each month. The leaves were used for medicine to heal the nations. No longer will there be a curse upon anything."
